$10,000 Fund Donated For Hartnell Scholarships

The largest single scholarship contribution in the history of Hartnell College was revealed in the will of the late Charles B. Rosendale, pioneer Salinas attorney. Information received by John B. Lemos, president of Hartnell, reveals that Rosendale left $10,000 to the Hartnell Junior College district for the establishment of a special scholarship.

According to the Hartnell president, the fund, for "one or more" scholarships, will bear the name of "Charles B. Rosendale and his widow, Daisy M. Rosendale" of Salinas. Interest or earnings from the $10,000 fund will be made available for these scholarships each year.

Hartnell President John B. Lemos said that the generous gesture will enable deserving students from Monterey, Santa Clara and Santa Cruz counties to receive aid toward continuing their education at Hartnell. "I'm certain," stated President Lemos, "that the Rosendale scholarships will be a true living memorial to those who believe in the future of higher education in our area and at Hartnell College."

Soph Class Ring Sales End Soon

The sophomore class rings are being offered for sale in the main office.

These rings are offered in four different styles: gold ring with ruby setting, gold ring with onyx setting, sterling ring with ruby setting, and sterling ring with onyx setting.

All of the arrangements for the rings have been handled by Student Body President Dick Eppley. The rings are manufactured by Joslens, of Owatonna, Minnesota. All sales end February 16, so interested students are advised to hurry.

March 12 Is Makeup Deadline

Students with incompletes for last semester are reminded that the deadline for making up the missing work is March 12.

Students who receive an incomplete on their grade cards are allowed six weeks of the following semester in which to fulfill the requirements of the course and receive their grade. If the work is completed within the required

Registration Reaches 746

Hartnell's gain of ninety-two new students this semester has boosted the total enrollment of the college to 746, a gain of 101 students over this time last year.

President Lemos has stated that he expects to have about 1,000 students by 1957-8, and to reach the 850-student capacity of the present college buildings by the second semester next year.

Once the building's capacity is reached, any further increase in enrollment will make it necessary to increase the size of the faculty and buildings in order to avoid overcrowding of the classes, so it appears Hartnell will soon be expanding.

New Station Wagon Bought

The Hartnell student body recently became the proud possessors of a brand new 1954 Pontiac station wagon, to be used by the students for official business only.

The all-steel, four-door, eight-passenger station wagon is equipped with dual-range hydramatic, tinted windshields, a radio, and white sidewall tires. It was purchased from Douglass Pontiac, in Salinas, for $3,900.

The trade-in of the previous station wagon, a 1950 Chevrolet, took $1,400 off the price of the new one, leaving a total of $2,500 to be paid out of the surplus cash in the student budget.

The commission purchased the new car after the students attending the open commission meeting held in the Little Theater some weeks ago voted overwhelmingly in favor of such a move.

time there is no penalty, but if it is not done the grade of failure is recorded.

Voris Recommends His Successor

Hartnell's newly-acquired head football coach, Kenneth Blue, became a member of the college faculty on February 8, officially replacing Dick Voris, who moves to the Southland to join the Los Angeles Rams' coaching staff.

Coach Blue, who accepted his new position last month, finished the winter semester at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo only last Thursday and now will dig into five sections of physical education as well as coaching some spring sports. It is reported that the 32-year-old mentor will handle Hartnell's golf and swimming teams and possibly assist Coach Ed Adams with his track squad.

Mr. Blue comes to Hartnell with a fine record of 25 wins, 9 losses, and 3 ties as a high school head coach. Previous to teaching at

Rehearsals Start For New Play

The Pulitzer prize-winning play, "Craig's Wife," written by leading playwright George Kelley, is the next production of the Hartnell College Community Theater.

The three-act comedy drama has been scheduled to go on stage, Thursday, March 18, through Saturday, March 20. It will be presented in the Hartnell Little Theater, at 8 o'clock each evening.

In recent years, the Hollywood product of the play, renamed "Harriet Craig," has been shown in the local theaters.

The beautiful Mrs. Craig, who is meticulous, cold, and calculating, married not for love and romance, but for wealth and security. In her two years of marriage she practically excluded her husband's friends from the house. Mrs. Craig is very suspicious of her next-door neighbor, who is a widow and is always checking up on Mr. Craig's activities. An aunt who lives at the house and a niece that comes to visit almost against her will, add to the fast moving and exciting plot. A murder occurs and then . . . well, you go and see the play.

The cast consists of college players Carmelita McAmis, Ann Newkirk, and Ray Wilson. Community

Cloyse Little and Troy George Resign Student Commission Posts

Two Student Commission members, Troy George, commissioner of rallies and assemblies, and Cloyse Little, commissioner of publicity, officially resigned their posts this semester.

Troy George turned in his resignation to Student Body President Dick Eppley on Monday, February 1. Troy has been the school entertainment man for the past semester. He indicated that the burden of his studies this semester left him no other choice other than to resign.

One week later Cloyse Little turned in his resignation to the Prexy. Cloyse has been the school's publicity man for one semester. He said that he had to resign under order of his doctor.

When both were asked what they will do now that they are no longer commissioners, they replied, "We'll just retire and put more effort into our studies."

At the present time the Student Commission is in the process of assigning the vacant positions.

Bowling Deal Offered Students

A special package "deal" for Hartnell College students is offered by the Salinas Bowling Alley, which will enable them to bowl (under the direction of Miss Handley) for 35 cents a line.

This program will take place on Friday at 1, 2, and 3 o'clock. Also this will be strictly for recreation. If interested please contact Miss Handley as soon as possible.

THE EDITOR'S VIEWS

By DARRELL RAINS

Might as well get our grumbling over with early, so here goes: Why must the Hartnell parking lot look like a trash dump? While it's true that there are no really convenient trash cans for the scraps of those who eat their lunch in their cars, it doesn't seem too much to suggest that the trash be kept in a paper bag or something and deposited in a trash can later when one can be reached. A messy parking lot is bad publicity if anyone from the outside sees it that way, and there's no reason why the students can't get up enough school spirit to KEEP THE PARKING LOT CLEAN!

In passing, the new fluorescent lights in the lab rooms are very nice—perhaps other such lights could be used also to brighten up a few of the less well-lighted classrooms?

The Hartnell Student Union plans are really rolling now—and it looks like the students will get a really worthwhile building. It was very satisfying to see that the students and teachers really are getting a chance to put forth their ideas of what the building should contain. While almost any student union would be better than nothing at all, it is especially good that the students will get just what they do want. The school board that agreed to let the students help with the designing did a wise thing in our estimation; the students and faculty members who were contacted were those who either will be here to use it or who know what the ones using it will need, so the completed building should satisfy everyone.

It comes to my ears that the band, choir, and Panther Sentinel staff need more members. I can't speak for the first two, but it is definitely NOT just a rumor that the paper needs help. The more staff members we have the better we can satisfy the wants of the students as regards the material in the paper and the frequency of publication. The staff we have is doing its best, but most of the members are inexperienced in paper work and need time to learn the ropes. The more staff members we have, the more time each can spend in collecting, writing, and proofreading his copy, and only a journalistic genius (if there be such) can do all that in a short time and do a good job. It's not really such a hard job to write for a newspaper if the work is spread out over an adequate staff, so stop into Room 9 and sign up for Journalism 2-B, NEWSPAPER PRACTICE. If enough students will join the newspaper staff we should be able to put out a paper worthy of a college with an enrollment of 746 students.

College spirits sometimes have a tendency to ebb during the spring semester, when there are no football games to keep them up. To allow this to happen at Hartnell would be a mistake, because we still have an entire baseball season ahead of us, as well as track, tennis, and other sports. These activities—and the varied social activities—should be supported enthusiastically by the students the second semester as well as the first. Keep up the school spirit and end the year as well as it started—if not better!

Memo to all clubs: Don't forget to let us know what you are planning in the way of activities. We would like to print the complete story of each club's programs, parties, and plans, but we can't always tell what's up unless we're told. Even if you can't come in and tell us what you're doing, at least try to let the reporters in on the "secret." PLEASE!

DID YOU KNOW . . .

By RICK OLIVER

- . . . that a local theater no longer has a reduced price for the Hartnell College students. It seems that a few students gave that theater some trouble last semester.
- . . . that in preparation for next year, three freshman yell leaders have been selected. They are Joyce Vandiver, Dave Mekeel, and Gladys Hunter.
- . . . that the W.A.A. women's badminton tournament was held last Monday.
- . . . that three future chefs will be produced from our home economics class. These fellows are Richard Lello, David Magee, and Gary Schneickert.
- . . . that there has been some additions to the Sentinel staff. Our new writers include: Don Eckerson, Elinor Evans, Don Costa, Alice Sams, Lawrence Bosio, and Dale Swire.
- . . . that the Student "Y" went on a retreat over last week end in the Santa Cruz Mountains.
- . . . that the lighting facilities in some rooms are so bad that when the lights went out last month some people didn't realize that the lights were out.
- . . . that Mr. Robinson is taking his botany class to visit the hydra-aluminum plant within the next couple of weeks.
- . . . that Bob Braun and Max Dosier were walking on the rafters in Merrill Hall while decorating for the Winter Ball. Esther Williams was HOPEFULLY waiting with a mop, a sponge, and a bucket.
- . . . that if you have any odd-ball pictures laying around then hurry and put them in the box in the main hall for printing in La Reata.

Winter Ball Is Big Success

The Winter Ball planning committee reports that approximately 75 couples attended the gala affair held January 30.

The Winter Ball, an annual affair, was held at the Asilomar in Pacific Grove this year, and was classed as "very successful."

The featured band this year was the Stardusters, and sliced turkey and ham headed the menu for the midnight buffet.

Headed by General Chairman Esther Williams, chairmen for the various committees were: Mary Lou Smith, publicity; Sue Crawford, midnight buffet; Georgann Gorossi, decorations; Lloyd Hagquist, bids and programs; and Cloyse Little, music.

"Four Tones" Band At After-Game Dance

The last Marin basketball game was climaxed by a well-attended dance held in the student lounge.

The music for the highly successful dance was supplied by the Four Tones dance band, and the dance was sponsored and planned by the freshman class. Attendance was sparked by allowing couples with student body cards to enter free of charge.

The dancing ended at 1 a.m. players participating are Ruth Lee, starring as Mrs. Craig; Virginia Patton, Helyn Spotts, Neal Allred, Jean Singer, Grover Lee, and George Twisselman. Helen Burger is prop manager, and Mary Ann Baldwin heads the script department.

Rehearsals are held every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, from 7 to 10 in the evening.

The play is under the direction of Mr. Hal Ulrici, Hartnell drama instructor.

Actors Needed

Students who are interested in organizing a drama group for the purpose of producing one-act plays for the student body exchange assemblies and television are asked to contact Mr. Ulrici in the Little Theater. Rehearsal hours would be daily at 3 o'clock. There will be no evening rehearsals. In addition, drama credit may be given.

Women Offered $150 Scholarship

A scholarship is offered by the American Association of University Women, Salinas branch. It will be one gift scholarship to a woman student planning to go on to a four-year college. The scholarship will be approximately $150, and the student can be a major in any field.

On February 9, 1954, the Hartnell College basketball team played Salinas Union High School. This is the first time in several years that the college has played the high school.

Student Opinion Poll To Start

For the first time in the history of Hartnell College, the Sentinel staff is sponsoring a student poll. This poll will be conducted to find out how the student feels toward national problems today. This poll will be conducted for the next three issues of The Sentinel, the final results will be posted on the bulletin board and in the third issue of the paper.

After taking the poll, the answers will be opened, counted, and put in percentages. The significance of the poll will be determined by several members of the faculty.

The questions for the poll will be:

1. Do you think that teachers should have their lectures limited to subjects not touching upon communism, fascism, etc., etc.?

2. Do you feel that 18-year-olds should be allowed to vote in state and national elections?

3. Do you think that we should have universal military training?

Know Your Social Security

(Last of a Series)

By J. R. INGRAM

YOU MUST APPLY FOR THEM. Neither draft benefits nor retirement benefits are paid automatically. You or your beneficiary must go to the local social security office and fill out a claim.

APPLY PROMPTLY. Benefits are retroactive only for SIX MONTHS, so get claims in as soon as possible.

INCOME TAXES are not levied on social security benefits, they are tax free. That is why social security payments can be particularly valuable to high income people. A wealthy person who retires might have to get an income of $3,000 or more from investments in order to net, after taxes, the $1,500 he and his family might be drawing from social security.

CAN YOU EARN MONEY WHILE DRAWING RETIREMENT BENEFITS? You can earn as much as you want from work NOT COVERED by social security. You can collect as much as you want from insurance, annuities, or investments. You can earn up to $50 a month on a job that IS COVERED by social security (pending legislation may increase this). BUT, if you are paid more than $50 a month from a covered job, all benefits will be stopped for the month. In any event, after you have reached 75, you can earn as much as you want in any way you want and still get your social security benefits.

CAN A WIFE EARN MONEY WHILE DRAWING BENEFITS AFTER HUSBAND'S DEATH? Again, she can collect as much as she wants from noncovered work or from insurance or investments, or up to $50 a month from a covered job. But in any month that she earns more than $50 from covered employment, her benefit will be suspended and only the children's (if any) will be paid. Again, all limits are off after reaching 75 years of age.

If you have a question or there is anything you don't understand, take your particular problem direct to your local social security office. You can always locate it through the post office. If you are unable to visit the office, write or phone. They are there to help you.

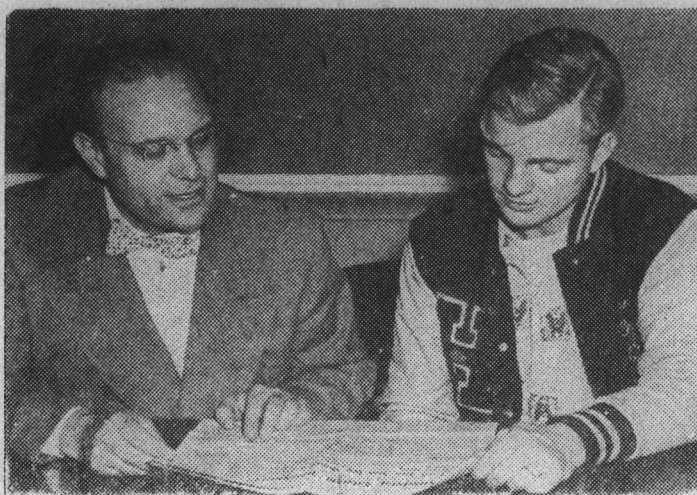

Seen above is Mr. Darrel Robertson modeling a blue checked sports shirt of flannel for Miss Sue Crawford. Sue, a home economics major here at Hartnell, is shown putting the finishing touches on her fourth sewing project for the year. She has offered to make shirts of this or similar types for any person that will furnish the material.

Ski Trip

Approximately 32 Hartnell students left Salinas last Friday morning at 4 o'clock for a week-end ski trip in Yosemite Valley.

The skiing took place at Badger Pass and Dodge Ridge. Reservations for the group were made at Camp Curry. Final arrangements for the trip were made at a Ski Club meeting last Tuesday. Advisor Dr. Kaupas, an outstanding skier, supervised the Ski Club members.

Virgil Herring Finds Uranium

Seen above is Mr. John B. Lemos and Virgil Herring, reading about his recent uranium strike in Wyoming. Virgil, who has attended Hartnell for two years, will soon transfer to San Jose State College.

Virgil R. Herring, 30-year-old student at Hartnell College, believes he may have made a uranium strike! Herring and a friend from Oakland made the find November 10, near Lander, Wyoming, while searching for jade. Virgil deals in the wholesale rock business, providing rocks for enthusiasts around his home in Rio Del Mar, located nine miles southeast of Santa Cruz.

Preliminary tests seem to have created quite an uproar throughout the region, according to a Lander paper. Atomic Energy Commission experts have stated that first tests from Herring's claim reveal a bit more material than is required for commercial ore.

At the present time Herring and his wife are anxiously waiting for the ore drilling to begin in March. If the tests reveal the makings of a fortune, which they well might, Virgil will have something to celebrate.

Raised in Cody, Wyoming, Virgil has roamed the country for many summers in search of rocks for his business. But not until last summer had uranium ever been discovered.

Just how a "rock hound" makes a uranium strike was revealed in an interview of Virgil Herring in the Santa Cruz Sentinel recently.

Herring and his partner staked out 26 claims. To keep them, one hundred dollars worth of work must be put into them each year.

Herring became a resident of Rio del Mar upon his discharge from the U.S. Army at Fort Ord. Evelyn, his wife, a former service club hostess at the fort, hails from Chicago.

They have lived at their present address since 1950, and they have one child.

Virgil is studying social science here at Hartnell, and expects to transfer to San Jose State College following his work here. Virgil is a member of the Santa Cruz and Salinas Mineral and Gem Societies.

Honor Society

Hartnell's Nu chapter of Alpha Gamma Sigma, the California junior college honor society, will begin its second semester activities soon.

The first project of the club will be to select the students eligible for membership and send to them the membership invitations.

The prime requirements for membership in the honor society for this semester are: a "B" average (a 2.0 grade-point average), at least 12 accredited semester units, and no grade lower than a "C" for last semester. Membership is temporary and depends each semester on having fulfilled the requirements for membership during the preceding semester.

Hartnell College offers many curriculums including those in accounting, architectural, art business, clerical, commercial art, dental, construction technology, drama, electronics, engineering, forestry, legal, medical, home economics, merchandising, optometry, journalism, agriculture, music wildlife conservation.

Breezing Around Student Store

By J. R. INGRAM

Former football stars Schneickert and Chardo have turned to professional cheffing. Yes, these fellas are enrolled in one of the Hartnell homemaking classes and have so far outshined the girls. Anny knows they will some day make someone a good cook.

A lot of students had bright hopes of transferring to a four-year college this semester until they got a load of their first semester grades. Consequently we see quite a few familiar faces around. Some students tried approaching their instructors, but I haven't heard of any good results yet. Oh well, why not make a career of college life anyway (after careful consideration I have thought better of mentioning any names).

Since the new semester started, the hallway leading to the book store looks like a crowd waiting for Marilyn Monroe to come out. Unfortunately though, these students are only waiting to buy new books (never saw so many people anxious to start studying) or are the ones forced to sell their old books back to the book store because they couldn't find anyone to trade with. If you do make any private transactions just steer clear of the horse trader Eds.

After standing in line for hours and after all the worry and headaches to get the perfect schedule set up, the fun just begins. Then comes the changes. This is the time of the year when the office girls aren't always their old cheerful elves. Well, one change is excusable, but when the changes are changed back to the original plan he teachers tend to get more gray hair. I don't know why. The girls at least should be entitled to change their minds a few dozen times. The best way to avoid all the confusion is to sign up for school a week late like Paul Malech.

The hot weather showing up in the dead of winter lately had caused a bit of excitement among the girls. Getting all the summer clothes out of mothballs ahead of schedule seems like rushing the season to most of us. Cecelia Elington pulled a sneaky one and bought a new outfit.

There is an old saying which goes, "You can't see the forest for the trees." The expression is well taken when we conjure up a picture of our bookstore and the amount of business done during the past year.

To the casual observer, Hartnell's bookstore is a small room at the east end of the main corridor, in charge of Mr. G. Darwin Peavy and ably assisted by Miss Roxi Teague and Mr. Tom Plesche. The store bookkeeping is in charge of Mr. Irwin Forbes, the student body finance officer. This makes for the ideal setup because all profit of the store reverts to the student body fund and to the ultimate benefit of the undergraduates.

We can point with pride to its achievement of the past year. The estimated net profit was approximately $2,000.

When our new student union building is built the bookstore will have a total area of nine hundred eighty square feet. This will adequately cover the needs of the students, notwithstanding Hartnell's continued increase in enrollment. We now have a registration of seven hundred fifty, as against six hundred thirty-five for last year.

Home Ec Starts New Semester

Last semester, the home economics students of sewing and tiling completed their projects of skirts, blouses, and dresses.

In furthering their knowledge of homemaking, courses in furnishing, personality and dress, nursing, and fundamentals of family living are being given.

Miss Gladys Schmidt, home economics instructor, will be very happy to give students added information about any of the courses listed above.

This semester the students are working on tailored suits, clothes for children, and alteration projects.

Student Union Plans Studied

The Hartnell Student Union Committee met with the Commission and the class officers last Wednesday, February 10, to study the plans for the Student Union Building to be constructed in the near future.

After many years of hoping and planning by the students (and faculty) of Hartnell College, the construction of the required building was approved last year by the college board. The plans call for its construction at the rear of the present building, closing the quadrangle formed by the gym and the Home Ec wing.

All interested students were invited to the meeting held at 3:45, and the out-of-town buses were held till its dismissal.

Hartnell Junior College has 32 faculty members while the Hartnell School of Agriculture and Mechanics boasts 11 faculty members.

One of the newest additions to the library is "Thurber Country," by James Thurber. There are 26 pieces in his book. Most have already appeared in The New Yorker. Seven pieces have appeared in the Bermudian and have therefore never been published in this country. You will find Thurber Country a place not difficult to enter, but hard to leave.

If you go in for more intellectual types of reading the library has also received "Tusitala of the South Seas," by Joseph W. Ellison. This is the story of Robert Louis Stevenson's most comfortable and fruitful years were spent in the South Pacific, in western Samoa. This book tells us about those years, the travels, the islands, and the peoples. It does not, however, disclose anything basically new about Stevenson himself. That was not the purpose. Joseph Ellison sought to relate Stevenson's life in the South Seas in detail, and has succeeded... consequently, this is a supplementary biography—not a book that one would turn to first to read the life of the beloved R. L. S.

Evening School Offers Classes

Would you like to make up your Subject "A" requirement, or some other subject that you wouldn't otherwise take? If you do, you should go to the evening school classes.

You may not have heard of the evening school as of yet. The Salinas Evening School office is located in Room 33 in the Salinas Union High School building. The telephone number is 7262. It is open from Monday to Friday. Its annual bulletin distributed by it may be obtained in the main office of the college.

Several courses are offered, and anyone that is interested should contact the proper persons at once.

Drake, he was located with San Jose high for four years. He had his best season there in 1950, winning 10 games without defeat.

Voris' three-year high school record at Hanford and James Lick was 10 wins and 10 losses with his best season at Lick in 1951 with a 7-0-2 mark.

While both mentors were located in San Jose, their respective high school teams held several scrimmages; however, the two elevens did not meet during the regular season until Voris transferred to Hartnell in 1951. For the two following years the San Jose High club has come out on top in its battles with James Lick.

It will be long remembered, though, that Voris led the Panthers to 20 consecutive regular season grid wins in addition to a thrilling 20-20 tie with the Indians from Bacone in the 1952 Junior Rose Bowl. A person of lesser ambition would be skeptical of stepping into such a perilous position, but Blue feels he has his work cut out for him. He stated that he is very pleased with his new appointment and hopes to do his job as professionally as Voris did.

Voris and Blue were football teammates at San Jose State, playing next to each other in the line. It was there that they became close friends. It was partly on Voris' recommendation that Blue was selected for the job.

Blue has wasted no time in beginning the long hours of work that lie ahead of him. He has held several sessions with Voris in discussing next year's personnel and prospects. Blue will inherit a team consisting of the nucleus of last year's second string. There are approximately a dozen men from last season's team still enrolled at Hartnell. Tom Kyle is his lone first stringer returning. The big headache will be the need for a competent quarterback. Blue's split "T" is quite comparable to that of Voris, and on the quarterback hinges the fate of the ball club. Of course there can be no recruiting, but Blue hopes that a few of his former high school gridders might follow him to Salinas. He expressed doubt in seeing any Drake players here as they usually matriculate to close-by Marin J.C.

Coach Blue has had a fine education in physical education, holding a master's degree at Stanford and also having attended Marin J.C., San Jose State, U.S.F., and the University of California. "Ken Blue is a fine student of football and lives for the sport," according to Ram Line Coach Voris.

President John B. Lemos believes that Blue will make an outstanding addition to the Hartnell faculty and expects that he will have little difficulty making the switch to college coaching.

The name Hartnell College honors William Edward Petty Hartnell, who founded the first college west of the Rockies in the Gabilan foothills east of Salinas in 1832.

Sports Review

This is a new column added to your Panther Sentinel. It's to brief you on the sporting activities on your campus and around the nation, as seen by this writer

OPPORTUNITY AT STAKE

Not very long ago, a national magazine, Fortnight, published an interesting article to us Panther followers. It stated that the 1953 Panther team could and would be able to pick their own institution at which they would continue their education and play football. Of course, this depends on their eligibility.

CRAIN TO U.S.C.

Jim Crain, the Panthers' fine catching end, has received a scholarship to play football at the University of Southern California, although he and two other Panther stars, guard Dick Herman and all-American quarterback Tony Teresa flew last Monday to look over the University of Oregon. The latest report is that: Teresa, Herman, halfback Clive Bullian, center John Perkins, and guard Jim Brandon will most likely attend San Jose State College, with Crain heading to U.S.C. This writer would like to see that happen.

ELIGIBILITY

According to Director of Athletics Ed Adams, there are a number of boys attending Hartnell this spring semester who are going to be ineligible for spring sports. This may hurt the Panthers' chances for a good baseball and track season. It's too bad that these fellows did not take sufficient courses in order to carry them.

PRO DRAFT

Not very long ago the teams of the National Professional Football League drafted men to their teams from the huge list of collegiate stars. Bob Garrett of Stanford University was the number one pro draft choice, and he went to the Cleveland Browns.

LEAHY RESIGNS

Coach Frank Leahy of the University of Notre Dame has resigned his post as head coach of the Fighting Irish. His reason was given that he is in bad health. His successor will be a former halfback of the Irish named Terry Brennan. Brennan is no mediocre coach, according to Leahy. He is Hartnell School of Agriculture and Mechanics has a breeding herd of 15 purebred beef cows, 60 registered ewes, and 20 brood sows on the farm, to give students actual training in the animal husbandry projects.

Hartnell's animal husbandry department trains students for the occupations of farming and ranching.

Have you seen the Hartnell Publicity Department's Christmas cards? Although a little late, about three weeks, the Salinas Californian received its card. To the surprise of all, they discovered that the cards were mailed from Montserrat and Leeward Islands, in the West Indies.

The idea is credited to Cloyse Little, Hartnell College publicity chief. Enclosed in the envelope was a Christmas card drawn by Finisc Jeffers, and a basketball schedule.

William Kiepora, a student in the Hartnell advertising class, made the mailing arrangements through a stamp dealer he knows in the West Indies. In spite of the array of stamps, the project cost little over the cost of sending the cards from Salinas.

Baseball Preview

Jess Regli's "horsehiders" will return to the diamond wars this spring after enjoying a long rest following their conference championship season of last year. This year's available material could produce even a stronger team than last year.

The returning varsity members, according to Coach Regli include: Chuck Dillard, pitcher; Ray Shields, catcher; Richard Adams, outfield; Morris Boutte, first base; Bill Smith, second base; and Dick Herman, outfield.

New men trying out for the team are H. Kolstad, D. Ucovich, E. Estrada, R. Tomczak, G. Dell, D. Locke, B. Bowman, M. Mori, C. Varbel, G. Martinez, A. Connor, D. White, L. McDaniels, D. Halterman, and C. Sartwell.
